Dear Mr. Huddleston:

STAT
STAT
Thank you for your letter of 27 June concerning Miss [redacted]

Miss [redacted] was interviewed by our Personnel Office on 10 June 1957. As was explained to her at that time, our present requirements in the junior officer class are quite limited, and she felt that she would not be interested in secretarial or clerical work. Further, she had some reservations as to her interest in making a career in intelligence work since she now plans to be married after a few years of employment.

No final conclusion was reached as a result of this interview; it being agreed that Miss [redacted] would consider the matters discussed and decide whether or not to activate her application.

Your interest in bringing Miss [redacted] to my attention is appreciated. You may be sure that she will be given every consideration for available positions for which she is qualified if she elects to consider employment with us.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director
